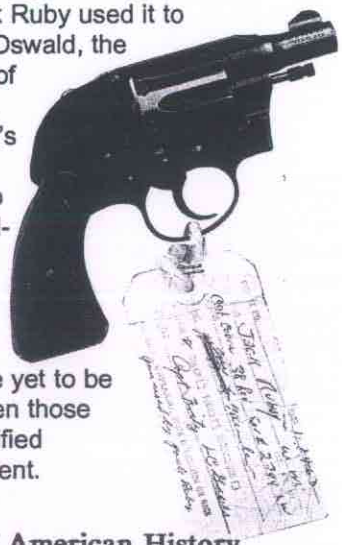
A BULLET SHOT FROM "THE MOST FAMOUS GUN IN THE WORLD"

. . . November 24, 1963

One bullet from this gun changed the course of history when Jack Ruby used it to slay Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged assassin of President John F. Kennedy. Oswald's dramatic death locked the door to the truth surrounding President Kennedy's death but unveiled the ever-changing theories that have yet to be challenged by even those most visibly identified with this tragic event.



Own a Piece of American History

No one can forget those tragic days in Dallas, Texas in November, 1963. Now you can be one of the original, exclusive owners of this highly collectable cartridge shot from The Most Famous Gun in the World, the Jack Ruby .38 Special Colt Cobra.

Ballistic Markings

Ballistics is the study of the firing, flight and effects of ammunition. The markings are the fingerprint which is unique to that weapon. No other gun can produce the exact same markings as the Jack Ruby .38 Special Colt Cobra. This further insures its unique collectability.

Limited Edition

Only 5,000 of these historic collector bullets will be available worldwide. Each authentic artifact has a brass casing by Remington with a copper jacketed bullet. Each bullet and cartridge case is individually inscribed and numbered.

Display Case

The bullet and cartridge case are set in a 6"x6"x1⅝" cherry wood presentation case with a clear glass top and a "Ruby" red, French-cut velvet lining. The polished brass identification plaque is numbered to correspond with the bullet and cartridge case.

Proven Value

One of the bullets of this collection was sold in New York City at Herman Darvick Autograph Auctions, (specialist in collectable historic memorabilia) for over $500 on June 11, 1992. Nationally recognized collector, dealer and appraiser, Clark Vaughn Cail (president of Whitney Arms) has recently stated the Jack Ruby Colt Cobra, with its unparalleled historical importance, ranks as the most famous firearm of the 20th century and is valued in excess of $2 Million.
